How to Do Reward Games

Reward games are a great way to leverage students' energy and motivation. You just need to train them to moderate the game all by themselves without you.

1. What games do I know how to play that I could teach my students?

2. What things do I need to train them on so that they can play by themselves?

3. What questions or concerns do you have?